

Once again we are pleased to return to the warm sunny shores of beautiful Waikoloa. Accommodations are at the luxurious Waikoloa Marriott Beach Resort along the Kohala Coast, fronting sun-splashed Anaeho'omalu Bay on the Big Island.

Retreat fees include two nights' hotel lodging, Sabbath lunch and Sunday breakfast. You must provide your own meals for Friday evening, Sabbath breakfast and Saturday dinner.

A snack pack with a muffin, banana, boiled egg and cocoa/tea will be available to everyone at no charge.

There is a parking fee of $10.00 per day. This is not covered in your retreat fees.

Hotel porter service fee for luggage is $8.00 per person. This is not covered in your retreat fees.

Resort fee of $31.40 per room, per day is available upon request; it offers Internet access, limited long distance calls, food & activity discounts. Your retreat fee does not cover this.

Check-In and Registration on Friday between 3:00-6:00 p.m. in front of the meeting rooms. Do not check-in at the hotel front desk. Your room assignment, key cards, retreat folder and songbook will be distributed at the LEIS' hospitality table. Program starts promptly at 7:00 p.m.

To minimize retreat expenses, charges for outgoing telephone calls, movie rentals, shop and restaurant purchases, valet parking, movies or room service are not covered as part of your retreat fee.

This is a retreat for women 18 years of age and over; please, no spouses, infants, children or teenagers.

Kay D. Rizzo

"Long ago I discovered attitude is a choice I make every day. I can be thankful and praise God or I can blaspheme His name by griping and complaining. Regardless of my circumstances, it is always my choice."

Barbie Dolls and popcorn, M&M's and exploding microwaves - Kay draws eternal truths from everyday happenings with a delightful touch of laughter and vulnerability. Her natural wit and effervescence shines throughout every one of her scripture-based presentations.

Girls can't be preachers! Or so six-year-old Kay was told. If she couldn't be a preacher, the child decided to become a teacher. For Kay, God's plan included marriage and motherhood, classroom teaching, and writing her first book. The book paved the way to the pulpit. Kay reminds us, "Only God knows what's around the next bend in your life. Never sell Him short."

Kay's practical and uplifting messages burst with joy and praise. She is in demand at retreats, conferences and convocations throughout the United States, Canada, the Caribbean, and Australia. Her love for travel and adventure is evident in her motto, "Send ticket; will travel."

Kay has authored over 50 books and 1,000 articles. She resides with her husband and business partner, Richard, in California's San Joaquin Valley. Her greatest riches include her hubby, her two daughters, two sons-law, two grandsons and a cat named Pepsi.

Saturday night is a free night for visiting and exploring with friends old and new. Take a dip in the pool which is open 24 hours, walk along the beach, or just talk story in the luxurious lobby and grounds. Take the trolley for $2 or walk a few minutes to the King's Shops or Queen's Shops for dining and shopping.
